

Monk House (Old School House), Bramshott Listed Grade II

Former school and master's house, now three dwellings. C17, mid C19, c.1900, with late C20 restoration and modification. Walls of rubble sandstone, with some brick dressings, small areas of painted brickwork, render, and tile-hanging. Tile roof. A building of 3 phases: a timber-framed house, mostly re-clad, with a western addition of a school building of 1831, and an eastward extension of c.1900. South elevation: a tall single-storeyed symmetrical front to the school building, with projected centre, of 1.1.1 windows, with 2 dormers now inserted, the window openings have chamfered reveals and Gothic hoodmoulds, and there is a small opening in the gable, which has kneelers; C20 casements. The middle section is one storey and attic (east side 2 storeys), 4 windows, 3 hoodmoulds (1 above a former doorway), casements. The east end is 2 storeys with projections front (c.1900) and rear (mid c19), with tile-hung 1st floor for the most part, casements. All the doorways are C20. plaque in the west gable (of the school) is Former Bell Inn had been bought by rector Monkhouse established a free school under the management of the Monkhouse Trust later taken over by the 'National Society for the Education of the Poor'.

Bramshott Boys' School closed in 1973 and sat empty until about 1983 .

ABOVE
CIRCA 1980—VICTORIAN SCHOOLROOM ON LEFT, CENTRAL SECTION THE OLD BELL INN (ADAPTED TO SCHOOLROOM, WITH MASTER'S ACCOMMODATION TO RIGHT); RIGHT HAND END CA. 1900 ACCOMMODATION EXTENSION

RIGHT—TOP
19TH CENTURY VIEW OF SCHOOLROOM
BELOW
VICTORIAN SCHOOLROOM ROOF