

Malthouse Farm, Haslemere Road Listed Grade II

One of Liphook's oldest buildings, 1500 or earlier. Previously owned by Winchester College, the house and farm was purchased by Sir Wm Erle of Bramshott Place. The Winchester College Arms were on the end of the great Barn with the motto of Bishop William of Wykenham, founder of the college 'Manner Maketh Man'

A front door was inserted in Victorian times so that guests could avoid the farmyard!

The barn was shortened in the 1980s to enable widening of the Haslemere Rd.

House, at one time 3 cottages. C16, C17, c19 and C20. Walls form recladding and new work; dark ironstone with brick quoins, flat and cambered arches, yellow stone above dark ironstone with stone quoins, small area of exposed frame, brickwork in Flemish bond, and tile-hanging of the upper floor. Tile roof, catslide at rear, gabled dormers. Late-medieval timber-framed 3-bay hall, with a C17 rear wing at the east side, and a large cross wing at the west end (partly C17, mostly early c19). South front of 2.1½ storeys, 0.2 windows. Casements, blocked doorways. The west elevation is 2 storeys, 1.3 windows, the north side extension being late C20; upper casements and ground floor sashes, of framework is exposed, and a C17 dog-leg stair

C20 stone and brick gabled porch. The rear has a large central tile-hung gabled dormer (enclosing the staircase) and a lower wing at the east side, exposed framework to the old north wall, and an outshot to the north wing. Interior: part

